

No cell phones on planes, please. They are already too intrusive on the life of the general public. We don't need this too.